

Lambrakis Foundation

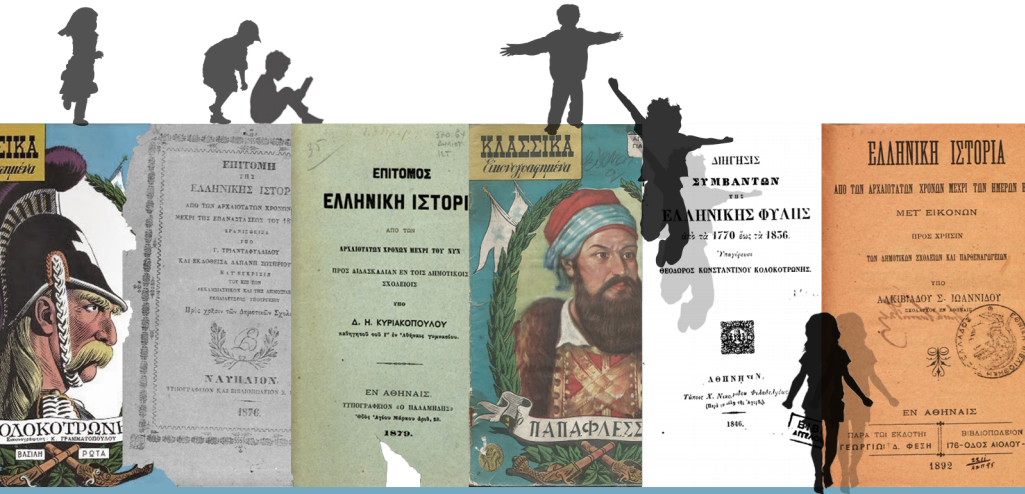

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

The Greek Revolution, Education and Collective Memory

Transformations of school and public history

18-19 February 2021

Supported by:

Lambrakis Foundation

NATIONAL BANK OF GREECE

AGLASKARIDIS CHARITABLE FOUNDATION

EGION FOUNDATION

B.M. THEODORAKIS FOUNDATION

CAPTAIN VASSILIS & CARMEN CONSTANTAKOPOULOS FOUNDATION

SONIA & CONSTANTINOS WILTON FOUNDATION

IKK THEOCHARAKIS FOUNDATION

Lambrakis Foundation

BNC LEP

K.A. FOUNDATION

John S. Latsis Public Benefit Foundation

BORISSAKI FOUNDATION

ONASSIS FOUNDATION

The Greek Revolution, Education and Collective Memory

Transformations of school
and public history

---

February 18-19, 2021

SCIENTIFIC COMMITTEE

President:

Christina Koulouri, Professor of Modern and Contemporary History, Rector, Panteion University of Social and Political Sciences

Members:

- Harris Athanasiades, Professor of History of Education and Public History, University of Ioannina
- Yannis Kokkonas, Professor, Ionian University, Department of Archive Science, Library Science and Museology
- Costas Lappas, former director of the Research Center of Medieval and Modern Hellenism, Academy of Athens
- Dr Vassiliki Sakka, Educator, ex School Advisor, A.H.E.G. (Association for History Education in Greece), President

ORGANIZING COMMITTEE

- Maria Margoudi, Research Associate, Lambrakis Foundation
- Maria Xanthopoulou, Research Associate, Lambrakis Foundation
- Dimitra Papageorgopoulou, Administrative staff, Lambrakis Foundation

THURSDAY, 18 FEBRUARY 2021

- 16.30 - 16.40 Greetings
- Manouil Savvidis, Welcome from Initiative 1821-2021, President of the Lambrakis Foundation
- Christina Koulouri, Welcome from the President of the Conference, Rector, Panteion University of Social and Political Sciences

Coordinator: Christina Koulouri, Rector, Panteion University of Social and Political Sciences

- 16.40-17.25 Keynote speaker: Joep Leerssen, Professor, University of Amsterdam: “The perception of the Greek revolution in romantic Europe”

- 17.25-17.40 Discussion

-
- 17.40-17.55 BREAK
-

The Greek Revolution through the eyes of others

- 17.55-19.15 Mirela Murgescu, Professor, University of Bucharest: “The Greek Revolution in Romanian Collective Memory since World War II”
- Irena Stefanoska, Professor, University of Skopje, Minister of Culture: “The Greek Revolution in history textbooks of North Macedonia since 1945”
- Esra Özsüer, Associate Professor, İstanbul University, Research Institute of Turkology, “Anatomy of a revolt from Millet-i Sadika to the treasonous Greek”
- Pavlos M. Pavlou, PhD, Modern and Contemporary History, History of Education: “Greek Revolution in Greek-Cypriots’ national consciousness. Historical changes in politics and in education”
- 19.15-19.55 Discussion

FRIDAY 19, FEBRUARY 2021

Schools, teachers and teaching methods in the era of the Greek Revolution

Coordinator: Yannis Kokkonas, Professor, Ionian University, Department of Archive Science, Library Science and Museology

09.30-10.10 Costas Lappas, former director of the Research Center of Medieval and Modern Hellenism, Academy of Athens: “School Education from the Pre-Revolutionary Period to the Years of the Greek Revolution of 1821: Continuities and Discontinuities”

Marios Livieratos, Secondary School Teacher of Greek Language and History, MA in Modern and Contemporary History, Panteion University: “Schools and teachers in Southern Greece 1821-1831”

10.10-10.30 Discussion

---

10.30-10.45 BREAK

---

Teaching the Greek Revolution in Greek schools

Coordinator: Costas Lappas, former director of the Research Center of Medieval and Modern Hellenism, Academy of Athens

10.45-11.45 Harris Athanasiades, Professor of History of Education and Public History, University of Ioannina: “Diakos’s broken sword: narrative patterns of the 1821 Greek Revolution in school history textbooks (1853-2020)”

Angelos Palikidis, Assistant Professor, Democritus University of Thrace: “1821 through its images. Reading critically the revolutionary illustration in the classroom”

Vassiliki Sakka, PhD, Educator, ex School Advisor, A.H.E.G. (Association for History Education in Greece), President: “Teaching the Greek Revolution during Junta period (1967-1973) and the political changeover afterwards (1974-)”

11.45-12.15 Discussion

---

12.15 -12.35 BREAK

---

The Greek Revolution in public history I

Coordinator: Harris Athanasiades, Professor of History of Education and Public History, University of Ioannina

12.35-13.35 Christina Koulouri, Professor of Modern and Contemporary History, Rector, Panteion University of Social and Political Sciences: “Celebrating the jubilees of the Greek Revolution in 1871 and 1930”

Dora Markatou, Former Associate Professor, University of Ioannina: “1821 and the sculptor David d’ Angers: The Greek Girl on Marcos Botsaris’ tomb in Messolongi”

Dimitris Pavlopoulos, Associate Professor of Art History, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens | Georgia Antonopoulou, Art Historian PhD, Head Manager of the Athens Municipal Historical Archives | Michael Giochalas, Phd Candidate in History of Art, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens: “Greece is fighting for its Independence. Funerary monuments of the 1821 Revolution figures in the First Cemetery of Athens”

13.35-14.15 Discussion

---

14.15-15.45 BREAK

---

The Greek Revolution in public history II

Coordinator: Vassiliki Sakka, PhD, Educator, ex School Advisor, A.H.E.G. (Association for History Education in Greece) President

15.45–17.05 Yannis Kokkonas, Professor, Ionian University, Department of Archive Science, Library Science and Museology: “Figures and events of the Greek War of Independence in the plays created and presented by the functionally illiterate Greek shadow puppeteer Sotiris Spatharis during the interwar period”

Vangelis Karamanolakis, Associate Professor of Theory and History of Historiography, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens: “The Left and the Greek Revolution of 1821. Remarks on a complex relationship (1924-1974)”

Panagiotis Stathis, PhD candidate, University of Crete, Department of History and Archaeology: “The public history of the 1821 Greek revolution in the ’60s and ’70s”

Eleni Kouki, PhD, Hellenic Open University: “The 1971 Jubilee of the Greek Revolution: On the relationship between authoritarian regimes and national ceremonies”

17.05-17.35 Discussion

---

17.35-17.45 BREAK

---

17.45–18.45 Round Table: “1821 in Education and Public History. A discussion on the conclusions of the conference”

Christina Koulouri, Professor of Modern and Contemporary History, Rector, Panteion University of Social and Political Sciences

Harris Athanasiades, Professor of History of Education and Public History, University of Ioannina

Yannis Kokkonas, Professor, Ionian University, Department of Archive Science, Library Science and Museology

Costas Lappas, former director of the Research Center of Medieval and Modern Hellenism, Academy of Athens

Vassiliki Sakka, PhD, Educator, ex School Advisor, A.H.E.G. (Association for History Education in Greece) President

18.45 End of the Conference

initiative
1821-2021

Lambrakis Foundation

